The challenges of skin health

When it comes to maintaining overall skin health, there are generally three major challenges:

1. Incontinence
The perineal skin can be irritated or damaged due to frequent and prolonged exposure to wetness and/or bacteria due to incontinence.

2. Fragile, aging skin
With age, our skin becomes thinner, less elastic, and less able to retain water, thus making our skin more vulnerable to dryness and possibly even irritation or injury.

3. Hygiene dependence
Cleansing the skin via traditional showering/ bathing can be physically demanding for those who are bedridden, have limited mobility, dementia, hydrophobia, or other conditions that require hygiene assistance from another individual.

A routine to help keep fragile skin healthy

TENA® includes a regimen of skin care using our dermatologically tested, pH balanced products that help you care for each individual's skin health needs. In addition to the variety of cleansing products for individuals with incontinence, fragile skin, and/or hygiene dependence, TENA® offers TENA® Moisturizing Lotion and TENA® Protective Cream.
